

Chad Readler Named Chair of the Ohio Alliance for Public Charter Schools

PracticeView Database

November 15, 2010 Monday

Copyright 2010 Muzeview Research, LLC All Rights Reserved

Length: 125 words

Body

---

At its annual meeting, the board of directors of the Ohio Alliance for Public Charter Schools named Jones Day Columbus partner Chad Readler as the board's new Chair. The Ohio Alliance for Public Charter Schools (OAPCS) is a non-profit, non-partisan and independent membership organization dedicated to the enhancement and sustainability of quality charter schools through standards, values, best practices, and business and financing resources. OAPCS emphasizes the need for excellence among Ohios charter schools. Charter schools are a major element of public education reform in the United States, and Ohio has the fifth-largest charter school enrollment in the nation. (Source: Jones Day)

<http://practiceview.muzeview.com/links/index.php?id=2153849>

Load-Date: October 14, 2011

---

End of Document